RE: Rouzer Group Signs a New Manufacturer – Rocky Mountain Twist & Montana Brand

Rouzer Group is happy to announce that we are now officially your Rocky Mountain Twist & Montana Brand representative within the STAFDA and construction markets. As the parent company, Rocky Mountain Twist is the industry leader in design, engineering, and manufacturing of USA-made, high-performance cutting tools and are a key partner with the United States Dept of Defense and aerospace manufacturers.

RMT and Montana Brand utilizes advanced technologies and state-of-the-art CNC drill grinding, high-speed machining, die-cast, injection molding, metal framing, and stamping. In addition to twist drills, both brands design and manufacture custom products that maximize performance, efficiency, productivity, and deliver production cost savings.

Preferred by the construction industry, Montana Brand has developed a proprietary Cryogenic Treatment that provides better results than simply putting tools in a cold environment. They have also worked with large aerospace companies to develop processes and procedures that produce the best tools on the market that decreases tool failure and increase the life, strength, and rust resistance of their tools.
