RE: Rouzer Group Signs on New Manufacturer – Robroy Stainless + Rocket Rack

Happy to announce that as of May 1st, 2020, Rouzer Group is your official Robroy Stainless and Rocket Rack Representative. Robroy Stainless and Rocket Rack is rated among the highest quality stainless steel and sanitary support systems for electrical and mechanical installations.

I have attached both catalogs along with our linecard to review. In the meantime, please let us know if we can be of service to you.

About Robroy Stainless:

A growing concern has been placed on food safety and the prevention of both corrosion and contamination. They understand the significant risks involved which could result in fines, fees, and products recalls. This is why Robroy Stainless has developed the first electrical infrastructure system designed to specifically address these concerns and minimize both corrosion and contamination. When determining the proper conduit system to be used it is critical to understand the environmental conditions as well as the appropriate standards.

About Rocket Rack:

Rocket Rack® is a pre-fabricated Sanitary Support System for Electrical & Mechanical Installations. It is specially designed for use in Food & Beverage Manufacturing Plants, Pharmaceutical Plants, Wastewater Treatment Plants, Consumer Goods Manufacturing Plants, Cosmetics Manufacturing Plants—any project where sanitary installation is required. Made from ¼" thick material, our support racks are engineered to withstand heavy loads. The Rocket Rack patented slot design allows for lines to be added in the future quickly and easily. The slot also permits fine adjustments, assuring a perfectly-straight conduit or pipe run. Sleek lines, radius corners and a buffed finish create a beautiful installation, suitable even for high-end residential or commercial projects featuring an open ceiling design.

Thanks for your business,
